- Determine primary and secondary areas (descriptions on page 8)
- Determine submission domain (descriptions on page 7).
- Attach a one-page PDF file that includes a graphic or tabular summary of obtained data (if submission is data based). Graphs and tables submitted must be of professional quality and formatted according to APA style; submissions that do not comply with these requirements will likely be rejected. All basic research and applied research submissions require data; data are optional for service delivery and theory.
- Provide one- or two-word keywords or key phrases, limited to 50 characters, describing the research topic, methodology, or subjects.

- Verify that author affiliations are listed using the official institution name and that a valid email address is provided.
- Symposia, papers, and panels have the option, and workshops are required, to provide the opportunity for attendees to earn continuing education credits. Additional information about background and training will be needed for the participant serving as CE instructor.
- Submit recommendations for the ABAI bookstore and indicate your interest in participating in an author signing event (optional).

If instructions are unclear or you require alternate accommodations, contact the ABAI office by email at convention@abainternational.org.

NEW IN 2022*Diversity and Sustainability Designations

Beginning in 2021, individuals were able to self-select during the submission process if the submission met the criteria for “diversity” or “sustainability” designations. Beginning with the 2022 convention, individuals must also provide a rationale for why the submission should receive the diversity or sustainability designation. The Program Board will review all self-selected designations and approve those that are appropriate.

Diversity submissions may address issues of access (to higher education, services, etc.) of marginalized groups; behavioral science research concerned with topics such as implicit bias in scientific research, interventions aiming to ameliorate the effects of systemic bias, and others; or analyses of discriminatory behavior, of both individual and systems. The Program Board is also open to reviewing novel interpretations of this program focus.

Sustainability submissions may address ways behavioral approaches might be used (or are being used) to change behaviors of individuals, governments, and societies to implement policy or adopt practices that encourage and enhance environmental sustainability. Additionally, such submissions might cover approaches to securing funding for such research. The Program Board is also open to reviewing novel interpretations of this program focus.

Submission Language Considerations

Last year the Program Board, with the tremendous help of the ABA Taskforce, began using a rubric to review all submissions for culturally sensitive and inclusive language. Appendix 1. Rubric includes the adapted version of these guidelines. When making your submission, you will be asked to verify that you have reviewed your title and abstract language using these guidelines. Submissions that are accepted may be subject to revision requests by the Program Board to adhere to these guidelines.

Paper Submissions Now Eligible to Offer BACB Continuing Education Credit

Individual paper sessions are now eligible to offer BACB continuing education credit. Please review the paper submission guidelines to learn the information needed to apply to offer CE for your paper.

Panels and Symposia Now Eligible to Offer PSY Continuing Education Credit

To be approved for PSY credit, sessions must consist of formal learning activities that (1) are relevant to psychological practice, education and science; (2) enable psychologists to keep pace with the most current scientific evidence regarding assessment, intervention, and education as well as important legal, statutory, or regulatory issues; and (3) allow psychologists to maintain, develop, and increase competencies in order to improve services to the public and enhance contributions to the profession.

Additionally, PSY CE sessions must be grounded in an evidence-based approach. CE sessions that are focused on application of psychological assessment and/or intervention methods must include content that is credibly supported by the most current scientific evidence. CE sessions may also provide information related to ethical, legal, statutory, or regulatory policies, guidelines, and standards that impact psychology.

Scholarly Contributions to DEI Paper Competition

These awards are designed to encourage, promote, and reward behavior analytic scholarship on topics and issues in DEI, both in the field of behavior analysis and more broadly. Students (graduate or undergraduate) and post-graduate professionals who have completed empirical or conceptual papers relevant to DEI and that are informed, at least in part, by a behavior analytic perspective are invited to submit. Submissions for the paper competition may be made here.

REMINDERS

Diversity and Inclusion

ABAI seeks to honor the rich diversity that comprises the human community and values creating a convention program that represents the humanity our science serves. We encourage submissions from presenters from every background and from every locality, regardless of gender, sexual identity, racial / ethnic / religious background, emigration status, age, or socioeconomic status. We support submissions from under-represented or marginalized communities in particular.

ABAI Strategic Direction

ABAI's mission is to contribute to the well-being of society by supporting, developing, and enhancing the growth and vitality of the science of behavior analysis through research, education, and practice. In pursuing this mission, ABAI's strategic direction includes:

- Expanding the scope of behavior analysis,
- Building bridges to other disciplines,
- Contributing to the well-being of society through behavior science.

Please consider these directions when preparing your submissions.

Membership and Registration Requirements

Submissions will only be eligible for presentation once all presenting authors, chairs, discussants, and panelists have become current (2021–2022) members of ABAI and registered for the 2022 annual convention.

Failure to become a member, register for the convention, or make a scheduled presentation could result in the denial of submission privileges for the following convention year.

Student Presentations

Papers, panels, and symposia should cover well-established research and conceptual work. We encourage all student presentations to be submitted as posters.

Encore Presentations

Submissions cannot be presented at the annual convention more than once. If your submission was accepted and presented in a previous year, you cannot present it again without outlining the significant changes/updates that have occurred. Workshops, expo posters, reunions, and business meetings are not included in this rule.

Posters or papers presented at the autism conference, international conference, or another ABAI event are welcome for submission to the annual convention.

Poster Sessions

There will be three 2-hour poster session from 1:00 pm–3:00 pm on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday.

Business Meetings

Business meetings will be from 7:00 pm–7:50 pm on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. There will be no morning business meetings, except for a few closed meetings, and the ABAI Business Meeting, which is Monday at 7:00 am.

Submission and Presentation Language

All submissions and presentations must be made in English.

SABA Senior Student Presenter Grant Deadline

To be considered for a SABA Senior Student Presenter Grant, all submissions must be made by the close of call for submissions on October 27, 2021, including posters.

SCHEDULING CRITERIA AND ROLE LIMITS

Scheduling Criteria

The Program Board can consider only the chair, discussant, presenting author, and panelists of each submission when resolving scheduling conflicts.

Author Limits

- Papers, posters, individual symposium presentations, workshops, and Expo posters must have one presenting author and no more than seven additional authors.
- Panels must have exactly three panelists and one chair.
- Paper sessions, symposia, panels, business meetings, and reunions must each have one chair.
- Symposia, depending on the number of individual presentations, may have one discussant.

Role Limits

To limit the number of concurrent and potentially conflicting presentations, and to increase the impact and prestige of the poster sessions, individuals may serve in the following roles:

- presenting author on no more than two posters, and
- presenting author/panelist on no more than one oral presentation (paper, individual symposium presentation, or panel), and
- chair or discussant on no more than one symposium or panel.

The Program Board will reject submissions that include individuals exceeding the role limits outlined above. Consideration of which submission to reject when a participant has surpassed his or her limit will be made with attention to the order in which submissions were received.

An individual may have one role from category 1 and one role from category 2. An individual cannot have two roles from category 1 and zero roles from category 2, nor may they have zero roles in category 1 and two roles in category 2. In addition, individuals may have two roles from category 3.

DOMAIN DESCRIPTIONS

Basic Research. Research that primarily contributes to knowledge about fundamental principles of behavior, and whose target is selected on scientific goals rather than social significance. It may include research on any species, including human verbal behavior, but it must be theoretically driven, data-based, and carried out under the auspices of a research protocol. Premium is placed on experimental control.

Applied Research. Research that primarily contributes to knowledge about how or why interventions, service delivery systems, or their components, achieve desired behavior change. Target behavior is selected based on its social significance. Interventions must be designed to improve performance or adaptive functioning of individuals or behavioral systems, and may include the development of new technology for behavior change. It must be data based and carried out under the auspices of a research protocol.

Service Delivery. An intervention-driven activity to produce desired behavior change rather than to identify how or why interventions, service delivery systems, or their components achieve those goals. It may include the extension of existing technology to new settings or populations, and public policy, regulatory, ethical, and other topics related to service-delivery issues.

Theory. Refers to integrative and conceptual statements about the organization of facts, their interpretation, or their quantitative analysis. It may include historical and philosophical analyses and reviews of behavioral topics. Literature reviews should be submitted under this domain.

Translational. Covers two or more of the above domains. Only panels and symposia may be designated as translational.

PROGRAM AREA DESCRIPTIONS

Applied Animal Behavior (AAB) includes the dimensions of applied behavior analysis as they pertain to matters of importance for non-human animals. Topic areas may include (but are not limited to) issues related to enrichment, welfare and management, conservation, training, and treatment of problem behavior. Theoretical discussions related to these topics are also included.

Autism (AUT) includes work specifically related to the assessment and treatment of learning and behavioral characteristics of individuals diagnosed with autism spectrum disorders (ASDs) and related symptomatology. This work may be analytical in nature (research incorporating experimental controls), or it may illustrate practice or ethical issues specific to treatment of individuals with ASDs.

Behavioral Pharmacology and Neuroscience (BPN) includes research on the behavioral effects of drugs and other neurobiological manipulations as well as research on the neurobiological substrates of behavior.

Clinical/Family/Behavioral Medicine (CBM) includes the integration of behavior analytic strategies, methods, and theory into areas traditionally encompassed by clinical psychology, family therapy, and behavioral medicine. Content relevant to the area includes the application of behavioral principles and behavior-analytic basic research relevant to these domains.

Community, Social, and Sustainability Issues (CSS) includes conceptual analyses, empirical research, and service-delivery projects related to larger-scale community, sociocultural and sustainability issues, including work supporting social and environmental justice.

Developmental Disabilities (DDA) includes research and activities in the care of persons with neurodevelopmental, intellectual, and related disabilities other than those presentations fitting within the autism program area. These reported activities include basic research, applied research, service delivery, and theory/conceptual topics.

Behavioral Development (DEV) includes research and theory designed to identify environmental variables that establish and interact with behavioral development. Submissions should show how these variables relate to behavioral principles and instructional procedures in other areas, and how they can be manipulated to promote desirable developmental outcomes.

Experimental Analysis of Behavior (EAB) includes experimental analyses of human and animal behavior in laboratory and field settings. EAB research involves experimentally manipulated independent variables and addresses questions related to the fundamental nature of behavior-environment relations.

Education (EDC) includes presentations addressing variables that impact students' learning of academic content, management of student behavior within a variety of educational settings, and the practices of educators.

Organizational Behavior Management (OBM) includes workplace applications derived from behavior analytic principles. The focus is typically on direct interventions to improve employee performance through behavior change, as well as large-scale systemic analyses and interventions to address work processes and other environmental and social factors that may influence organizational behavior.

Philosophical, Conceptual, and Historical Issues (PCH) includes topics on the foundations—past, present, and future—of behavior analysis as a system, science, and practice, as well as comparisons and contrasts with the natural and historical sciences and humanities.

Teaching Behavior Analysis (TBA) includes theoretical/conceptual, applied research, and service delivery presentations related to teaching the science and practice of behavior analysis, including to individuals, academic/university faculty, clinical staff, parents, other professionals, and the broader community.

Verbal Behavior (VRB) includes conceptual, experimental, and applied presentations with roots in Skinner's (1957) analysis of verbal behavior. Topics may include mands, tacts, intraverbals, echoics, textual, listener behavior, autoclitics, multiple control, self-editing, and problem solving/thinking. VRB presentations emphasize analysis of controlling variables for verbal responses of humans and nonhumans.

SUBMISSION TYPE DESCRIPTIONS

Posters

Posters are physical displays of information, usually reporting empirical research. Submissions must demonstrate that the work to be reported has scientific merit and is well advanced. Data-based posters, which require a graph or chart of data, will receive preference.

Posters in the applied research or basic research domains require a data attachment.

Poster sessions will have assigned chairs and discussants, who will attend their designated sessions, interact with presenters, and ask questions about the research in the posters they review.

Posters should be 3'10" (1,168 mm) by 3'10" (1,168 mm) to fit the provided poster boards.

Papers

Individual paper submissions are limited to (a) conceptual, historical, or theoretical presentations, or (b) empirical research that would be too complex for effective presentation in a poster, such as an integrated set of experiments. Data from a single study should be submitted either as a poster or part of a symposium that contains an integrated set of studies on a thematically related topic. All data-based and single-study paper submissions that do not fit these criteria will be rejected or reclassified as posters. Papers in the basic research or applied research domains require a data attachment.

Symposia

Symposia are organized by a chair, who also moderates the session. Symposia focus on empirical, conceptual, historical, or methodological research. Symposia in the applied research or basic research domains require a data attachment.

Symposia are comprised of:

- Two presentations, a chair, and a discussant (50 minutes), or
- Three presentations and a chair (50 minutes), or
- Four presentations, a chair, and a discussant (110 minutes)

The Program Board values symposium submissions that are (a) organized around a central theme, (b) involve submissions from multiple institutions rather than from a single laboratory, department, or organization, (c) are 110-minute symposia, and (d) include submissions from multiple domains (are translational). Symposia that include presentations from multiple domains will be given priority for acceptance and scheduling. Applied research symposia are encouraged to recruit discussants with basic science expertise to increase exchange within the discipline.

Symposia should reflect work that is well advanced and is presented in an integrated way. Work that is just beginning (e.g., only baseline data provided) will not ordinarily be approved for symposium presentations, nor will a series of individual data presentations that do not provide an integrated view of advanced work.

Presentations not reaching this level may be reclassified as posters (which may be posted together if they cover similar content).

Panels

Panels are organized by a chair, who also moderates the session. Panels are 50 minutes in length and have three panelists and one chair. Panels are driven by audience questions after delivery of a brief abstract by the chair. Panels may include brief introductory remarks from the panelists, but should not have lengthy presentations by each panelist. Time is allotted for interaction amongst the panelists and with the audience. The Program Board will give preference to submissions that include panelists representing multiple institutions and that include a multiple-domain focus (i.e., are translational).

Panel submissions should not promote a particular organization and panelists should refrain from marketing or selling any particular service-delivery entity. Panel submissions should offer scientific dissemination and collaboration around a particular theme or topic.

Workshops

Workshops are educational sessions of three or six hours and involve the preparation of substantial training materials. Presenters limit enrollment and specify the academic level of participants. Participants are charged a materials fee (optional; set by the instructor) and tuition, which is used in part to pay workshop presenters. Accepted workshops that fail to enroll any registrants may not be submitted for consideration the following convention year.

Workshops that address topics that are in high demand by convention attendees are encouraged. When reviewing workshop submissions, the Program Board will give preference to workshops that:

- address topics that have been in high demand at recent annual conventions,
- clearly describe how they will provide supplementary materials (e.g., printed handouts, links to additional resources, sample data sheets, a copy of the presentation) to attendees, and
- clearly describe how they will use best training practices during the workshop (including behavioral skills training).

Preference will also be given to presenters whose curriculum vitae demonstrate an established track record of training experience and/or research in the topic area of the proposed workshop.

Business Meetings

Business meetings allow groups to conduct business or discuss interests and activities. Business meetings are scheduled for 50 minutes and do not count toward the presenter role limits. Business meetings will be from 7:00 pm–7:50 pm on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. There will be no morning business meetings, except for a few closed meetings and the ABAI Business Meeting, scheduled on Monday at 7:00 am.

Reunions/Receptions

Reunions and receptions are social gatherings. Space for university programs, chapters, SIGs, retirement celebrations, and memorials will be provided at no cost; exhibitors, sponsors, and other organizations will be required to pay a room rental fee. ABAI does not provide audiovisual equipment or refreshments; reunion chairs are responsible for arranging these details directly with the venue. Reunions/receptions may only be held on Sunday evening.

Expo Posters

The ABAI Expo is a poster session for presentations of behavior analysis training programs, internship and employment opportunities, special interest groups (SIGs), affiliated chapters, ABAI boards and committees, and behavioral associations around the world.

Single posters should be 3’10” (1,168 mm) by 3’10” (1,168 mm) and double posters should be 3’10” (1,168 mm) tall by 7’10” (2387 mm) wide to accommodate the provided poster boards. The Expo poster session is scheduled for Friday evening.

POSTER SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Posters are physical displays of information, usually reporting empirical research. Submissions must demonstrate that the work to be reported has scientific merit and is well advanced. Data-based posters, which require a graph or chart of data, will receive preference.

Posters in the applied research or basic research domains require a data attachment.

Poster sessions will have assigned chairs and discussants, who will attend their designated sessions, interact with presenters, and ask questions about the research in the posters they review.

Posters should be 3'10" (1,168 mm) by 3'10" (1,168 mm) to fit the provided poster boards.

Poster Title

Please use title case when entering the title, not all lowercase or all capital letters (e.g., Clinical Applications of Behavior Analysis: A Two-Part Study). Please limit titles to 15 words (200 characters). Please spell out all acronyms. No ending punctuation or quotation marks around the title are necessary.

Program Area

Select the most appropriate program area for your submission as the primary area; this information will help to avoid scheduling conflicts. For a complete description of program areas, refer to page 8.

Submission Domain

Designate each submission as basic research, applied research, service delivery, or theory, as defined on page 7. Designating a domain for each submission allows convention attendees to make informed decisions about which presentations to attend.

Submission Designation

If your submission meets the guidelines for addressing topics of "diversity" or "sustainability" please select the designation. For complete descriptions of these designations, refer to page 3.

Abstract

The abstract must follow American Psychological Association (APA) style guidelines and be 150-200 words. Abstracts should begin with a sentence stating why the topic is important and end with the general conclusion, relevance, or potential impact. All acronyms must be spelled out at first mention.

Data-based submission abstracts

The abstract for a data-based presentation also must include: 1) an overview of the types of participants, 2) an overview of the types of procedures, and 3) a statement of what the data showed, with what degree of confidence.

Supporting Graph or Table

Data-based submissions must include a graphic or tabular summary of obtained data. Data-based submissions without a supporting graph or table will be rejected. The addition or correction of graphs and tables after the submission deadline will not be accepted. The data does not need to be complete at time of submission, but the abstract and graph/table must establish that the project is well under way.

Graphs and tables submitted must be of professional quality and formatted according to APA Style.

Attachments must be in a PDF file format and are limited to a single page. To avoid upload errors, limit your PDF file size to 1MB.

Submissions in the basic research or applied research domains must include data attachments. Submissions in the service delivery or theory domains may include data attachments if appropriate.

Keywords or Phrases

Please submit up to four keywords (single words or two-word phrases) with each submission. Keywords should be as specific as possible (e.g., "reinforcement" or "autism" would be too general; "CPT," "insurance," or "telehealth" would be acceptable). Along with the domains, keywords will allow convention attendees to search for topics most relevant to them.

Funding (Optional)

If relevant, submissions must include a description of the type of funding received for this submission (e.g., NIH or other research grants).

Conflict of Interest Notice (Required)

Submissions must include a declaration and identification of any potential conflict of interest (e.g., commercial support interest for sponsors, instructors, content of instruction, or any other relationship that could reasonably be construed as a conflict of interest). Please answer "N/A" if no conflict of interest exists.

Author Information

A presenting author is required for every poster submission. Seven additional authors may be added, for a total of eight authors per submission. A detailed explanation of all roles can be found on page 5.

You will be asked to add a presenting author by searching for a contact. You must provide a last name and full or partial email address.

If the contact you search for is not found, you can add a new contact. The following information is required:

- Name
- Affiliation (if including more than one affiliation, separate with a semi-colon [e.g., Affiliation One; Affiliation Two])
- Valid email address (all correspondence will be sent to this address)
- Country
- Province/State
- Citizenship

Please do not add a new contact if the displayed email or affiliation is out of date. After completing your submission, please contact ABAI (convention@abainternational.org) with the submission ID number and the corrected information for your contact. This ensures that there will not be multiple contact records for the same person.

SABA Senior Student Presenter Grant Application (Optional)

The Society for the Advancement of Behavior Analysis (SABA) will distribute donations from the SABA Senior Student Presenter Grant fund to qualified student applicants who complete submissions before October 27, 2021.

PAPER SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Individual paper submissions are limited to (a) conceptual, historical, or theoretical presentations, or (b) empirical research that would be too complex for effective presentation in a poster, such as an integrated set of experiments. Data from a single study should be submitted either as a poster or part of a symposium that contains an integrated set of studies on a thematically related topic. All data-based and single-study paper submissions that do not fit these criteria will be rejected or reclassified as posters. Papers in the basic research or applied research domains require a data attachment.

Papers will be grouped into sessions by area coordinators and a chair will be assigned to the session from among the papers' presenting authors. Fifty-minute paper sessions are comprised of two papers and a chair; 110-minute paper sessions are comprised of four papers and a chair.

Paper Title

Please use title case when entering the title, not all lowercase or all capital letters (e.g., Clinical Applications of Behavior Analysis: A Two-Part Study). Please limit titles to 15 words (200 characters). Please spell out all acronyms. No ending punctuation or quotation marks around the title are necessary.

Program Area

Select the most appropriate program area for your submission as the primary area; this information will help to avoid scheduling conflicts. A secondary area also may be selected as additional information. For a complete description of program areas, refer to page 8.

Submission Domain

Designate each submission as basic research, applied research, service delivery, or theory, as defined on page 7. Designating a domain for each submission allows convention attendees to make informed decisions about which presentations to attend.

- BCaBAs
- Individuals offering direct therapy
- Beginning training in behavior analysis
- Recently completed baccalaureate-level work

SYMPOSIUM SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Symposia are organized by a chair who also moderates the session. Symposia focus on empirical, conceptual, historical, or methodological research. Symposia in the applied research or basic research domains require a data attachment. Symposia may be submitted in one of the three following formats:

- Two presentations, a chair, and discussant (50 minutes)
- Three presentations and a chair (50 minutes)
- Four presentations, a chair, and a discussant (110 minutes)

The Program Board values symposium submissions that are (a) organized around a central theme, (b) involve submissions from multiple institutions rather than from a single laboratory, department, or organization, (c) are 110-minute symposia, and (d) include submissions from multiple domains. Symposia that include presentations from multiple domains will be given priority for acceptance and scheduling.

Symposia should reflect work that is well advanced and is presented in an integrated way. Work that is just beginning (e.g., only baseline data provided) will not ordinarily be approved for symposium presentations, nor will a series of individual data presentations that do not provide an integrated view of advanced work. Presentations not reaching this level may be reclassified as posters (which may be posted together if they cover similar content).

Applied science symposia are encouraged to recruit discussants with basic science expertise to increase exchange within the discipline.

Symposium Title

Please use title case when entering the title, not all lowercase or all capital letters (e.g., Clinical Applications of Behavior Analysis: A Two-Part Study). Please limit titles to 15 words (200 characters). Please spell out all acronyms. No ending punctuation or quotation marks around the title are necessary.

WORKSHOP SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Workshops are educational sessions of three or six hours and involve the preparation of substantial training materials. Presenters limit enrollment and specify the academic level of participants. Participants are charged a materials fee (optional; set by the instructor) and tuition, which is used in part to pay workshop presenters. Accepted workshops that fail to enroll any registrants may not be submitted for consideration the following convention year.

Workshops that address topics that are in high demand by convention attendees are encouraged. When reviewing workshop submissions, the Program Board will give preference to workshops that:

- address topics that have been in high demand at recent annual conventions,
- clearly describe how they will provide supplementary materials (e.g., printed handouts, links to additional resources, sample data sheets, a copy of the presentation) to attendees, and costs. ABAI will add a tuition fee to any material fee. Please enter US currency value without the dollar sign (e.g., 15.00; no "$").

Additional Information Regarding Workshops

Workshop Payment Formula

Workshop presenter payment is calculated based on the number of paid registrants for the workshop. The formula is as follows:

- Six-hour workshop with 5 or more registrants: $360 + (# of registrants × $material fee) + [(# of registrants - 5) × (20% of workshop tuition)]
- Six-hour workshop with fewer than 5 registrants: # of registrants × $material fee
- Three-hour workshop with 5 or more registrants: $195 + (# of registrants × $material fee) + [(# of registrants - 5) × (20% of workshop tuition)]
- Three-hour workshop with fewer than 5 registrants: # of registrants × $material fee

Below is an example using a 6-hour workshop with 13 registrants and $20 material fee:

Base rate (registrants 1-5)	$360
Additional tuition (registrants 6-13)	$304
Material fee (registrants 1-13)	$260
Total:	$924

Workshop Facilitation

In addition to presenting, the main presenter will be responsible for collecting workshop tickets (to ensure only paid registrants enter the workshop) and having registrants interested in continuing education credit sign in and out of the session.

Workshop Cancellation Policy

Please note that workshops with fewer than five registrants at the close of the pre-registration period will be canceled unless presenters commit, in writing, to conducting the workshop at the date and time scheduled.

If your workshop has fewer than five registrants as of May 1, 2022, you will be contacted and asked if you

APPENDIX 1. RUBRIC

ABAI is committed to centering traditionally marginalized voices in the ABAI program as well as ensuring that our conference reflects the lived experience and values of all participants. In 2020, the Program Board began evaluating the language in titles and abstracts for sensitivity and inclusivity of all groups. In our efforts to continually grow as a field and as an association, please use the table below to reflect on the language in your title and abstract before submitting it. This resource was adapted with consultation from Tai Collins from a rubric graciously provided by Landria Green and Vanessa Bethea-Miller of the ABA Taskforce to Eradicate Social Injustice. Please note language that is considered offensive in one culture may be considered standard in another culture and that standards evolve rapidly within each culture. Therefore, our goal in encouraging presenters to consider these standards is not to punish or exclude, nor to create a list of “bad” or “forbidden” words, divorced from context. Instead, we believe that presenters carefully and humbly considering our language from multiple perspectives can help support the global behavior analytic culture in evolving toward greater cultural humility and social justice.

Expectations for All Submissions
Description of populations	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Abstract provides respectful descriptions of the individuals represented, from a diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) perspective.</li> <li>• Abstract or title does not include language that has negative undertones, is associated with bias or racism, or that could otherwise be considered discriminatory, offensive, or insensitive to the represented population.</li> </ul>
Description of presentation topic	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Abstract or title describes the presentation topic in a manner that reflects cultural humility and respect for multiple perspectives within a DEI framework.</li> <li>• Abstract or title does not include descriptions of the presentation topic that indicate an absence of cultural humility (e.g., we always know what’s best) or a lack of respect for the perspectives of the groups or individuals being discussed.</li> </ul>
Presenter Qualifications	It is critical that presenters have the relevant training and/or lived experience to appropriately discuss topics, especially when related to culture or DEI issues. Consider whether the presenter(s) have sufficient expertise and experience presenting on the topic to present it skillfully and avoid unintentionally misrepresenting or offending the groups represented. If the presenter(s) do not share identity and lived experience with the populations being discussed: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Has the presenter presented on DEI topics in the past?</li> <li>• Has the presenter done clinical or advocacy work in the area of DEI in the past?</li> <li>• Has the presenter conducted research on DEI-related topics in the past?</li> </ul> We seek to expand discussion of DEI in ABA by encouraging all presenters to self-reflect on these competencies when developing proposals.
Collaboration and Inclusion	We expect presenters to make every effort to ensure that their team includes individuals who represent the viewpoints of the groups being discussed. We also expect teams to include a diverse range of identities and perspectives.
